Learning outcomes that last

Our tours help students learn more about themselves, the world, and the impact they can make in the world. From active, guided learning to cultural engagement and independent discovery, our travellers return home more open-minded, empathetic, understanding, and ready for the next stage of growth.

I never had to worry about anything. My tour guide went above and beyond for us. I truly had an amazing experience.

Travel that helps makes the world a better place

We strive to have a positive impact around the globe in everything we do. When you travel with EF, you participate in supporting local communities, animal welfare, and the environment.

When you go out into the world and you're able to talk to new people, change is inevitable. You evolve and grow. I saw that change in my daughter.
